Frank Lloyd Wright's Landmark Price Tower

Tour and CEU event

You're invited to attend a special event at Price Tower Arts Center – Bartlesville, Oklahoma, on February 19-20, 2011. Sponsored by the OU College of Architecture / Interior Design Division – Board of Visitors, this event will offer a unique experience to attendees that will prove to be both educational and entertaining. Your participation in this event will generate proceeds to allow for several scholarships to be awarded to interior design students, in attendance at the University of Oklahoma.

This exclusive event has been arranged with the generous help of Price Tower Arts Center and is one not to be missed! 'Extended' tours of the historic Frank Lloyd Wright designed building, have been planned to include areas not often seen by the general public. In addition, guests will gain admittance to the exhibition 'Bruce Goff: A Creative Mind'.

As well, Special Event Packages are being made available to our guests to include special invitations to attend the entertainment functions, experience the Price Tower overnight accommodations, and take part in further touring opportunities. Packages include the following:

- Overnight stay at the Inn at Price Tower including a Continental Breakfast
- Cocktail reception in the H.C. Price Company corporate apartment and board room
- Dinner in the dining rooms of Copper Bar
- Tour of Goff's 1958 Russell Collins House

What's more, the American Institute of Architects will offer continuing education credits for those participating!

Respond early with your reservation to attend! There is a set number of Special Event Packages available, due to the limited room accommodations available at the Inn. All responses are required by February 4th.
